

Strategic Venture–Engineering Partner

Who We Are

INFIRAD is a project development and venture–engineering company that partners with organizations, institutions, and investors to transform complex ideas into executable, investment-ready projects.

We focus on initiatives where technical uncertainty, performance risk, and investment sensitivity intersect — areas where conventional consulting or execution models fall short.

What We Deliver

INFIRAD provides an integrated capability stack combining:

- Advanced engineering for feasibility validation and risk reduction
- Technology, AI, and data analytics to support evidence-based decisions
- Project development to structure execution pathways and investment readiness

Engagement Model

- Consulting engagements: Targeted studies and analyses supporting critical decisions
- Strategic development partnerships: Selective, phased partnerships where INFIRAD acts as a technical backbone

When INFIRAD Is Engaged

- High technical complexity
- Irreversible or sensitive investment decisions
- Need for a single accountable technical partner

Methodology

From Idea to Certainty

Concept & validation → Simulation & optimization → Development & preparation
